ALL-CHINA SCIENTIFIC WORKERS' DELEGATES' CONFERENCE

The first All-China Scientific Workers' Delegates' Conference is now being planned. In May 1949, four organizations, the China Science Society, the China Natural Science Society, the China Scientific Workers' Federation, and the Northeast China Natural Science Research Society met to study the possibilities of promoting a nation-wide scientific workers' conference in order to review the various problems pertaining to the study of scientific and productive reconstruction. The study of these problems should be adapted to the affairs dealing with the people's liberation and also to the requirements of economic reconstruction.

These organizations have met in Peiping four times to discuss the planning problems of the first scientific workers' conference and to select the 248 members of the planning committee. Although the members of this committee are scattered in such places as Peiping, Tientsin, Shanghai, Ning-po, Hong Kong, Wu-chang, Hang-chow, etc., it was decided to call a meeting in June 1949 in order to form this planning committee and to organize a provisional executive assembly.
